EXPLORATION 27 ...
TO MY SURPRISE, A DEEPER QUESTION WAS ANSWERED

by Kevin Jeffers
Monroe Institute Graduate

Kevin is currently involved in finance and is a trained artist and a writer. He has worked in the development of super consciousness for more than fifty years and is committed to the retrieval of souls from many locations within the earth energy systems and sending them on their Path back into the Light.

I started the Exploration 27 program with a strong expectation based on previous projections of what I would encounter there. Would it look and feel energetically as I expected?

I wanted and needed verification of my own experiences to validate my visits there. Are there really parks and forests? Who were these people walking about and chatting? Were the healing center and educational programs able to move with me as my consciousness returned to earth life?

I knew from my own experiences this is a vast place that continually shifts in energy, perception, and content. To my surprise, a deeper question was answered, “How did I fit here?” I found a vibrational pattern of extraordinary presence that moved and changed with my intentions and thoughts. I found myself easily creating my particular version of what F27 felt and looked like as I needed. There was no fixed view or experience. I was the center of creation within this place of wonders.

The reality of F27 I saw is linked to my perception of this place as souls are received in their brilliance having returned from their earth sojourns. And the continual sending forth of souls seeking the experience of earth life according to their needs and development. The reality of I / there became clear. Here I am a reflection of my thoughts and limited by beliefs and worries. There, there is no limitation to the experience of my soul.

Within this activity F27 offered tangible gifts, a Healing Center, the well-known Reception Center and gloriously vibrant Park, a Planning Department for on-going soul development, an Education and Training center. The dream like experience of F27 became the real experience of soul life moving form here to there with restriction or limitation.

In the following days I experienced the potential of my life, unresolved relationships, skills in merging consciousness with plant and animal consciousness, a vast basket of possibilities. I learned of the Earth Core F27 crystal and the Gathering on F34. All became vivid in their reality. There is I found no separation of Souls and Self from here to there.

Now in the weeks after the training the vibrancy of the higher realms sink slowly into my awareness as I accept and work with these energies. Surprisingly, the mystery of higher consciousness has become the baseline reality of my life. From the mysterious to the mundane in five days!
